*The Honorable Wm. M. Benidickson,
Minister of Mines and Technical Surveys,
Ottawa*

SIR:

I have the honor to submit a report on the administration of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1964.

Your obedient servant,
W. E. van STEENBURGH,
Deputy Minister

OTTAWA, April 28, 1964

Summary of Operations for Year 1963

The Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act was amended by Chapter 25 of the statutes of 1963. The amending act, which received Royal Assent on December 12, 1963, extended the application of the Act for four years to the end of 1967 without change in the formula for computing the amount of assistance payable.

The amending legislation provides a restriction on the payment of assistance to new lode gold mines commencing production after June 30, 1965. A lode gold mine brought into operation after that date will be eligible for assistance only if the mine provides direct support to an existing gold mining community. A gold mine will be deemed to provide such support if the majority of the persons employed at the mine reside in one or more of a number of gold mining communities which are specified in the Act.

The purpose of the restriction is to prevent the establishment of new gold mining communities which would be dependent upon government assistance from the outset, and which would add to existing social problems.

The restriction will not affect those gold mines which are now in operation with respect to eligibility for assistance payments now or in the future. The restriction will not apply to placer mines.

The date on which the restriction will become effective was set at July 1, 1965 in order that new lode gold mines which are currently under development will have a reasonable opportunity to qualify for assistance.

The amounts paid to operators of gold mines to March 31, 1964, for the years 1948 to 1963 inclusive totalled $185,895,964.98 on a production of 46,418,762.106 fine ounces of gold produced and sold under the provisions of the Act.

The total assistance which will be payable for gold produced and sold under the Act in 1963 is now estimated to be $14,970,000. For the year 1963, the actual assistance paid up to March 31, 1964 was $11,289,004.04. This sum is 90 per cent of the assistance payable on the applications received to that date. The remaining ten per cent is payable when an audit of the books of account of applicants has been completed by the Audit Services Branch of the Office of the Comptroller of the Treasury.

Assistance payments totalling $14,259,682.88 have been made on gold produced in 1962. Payments of holdbacks will bring the total to approximately $14.7 million.

The amount of assistance payable to the operator of a gold mine is computed under the current formula by adding 25 per cent to the product of the rate of assistance and the number of assistance ounces. The number of assistance ounces is two thirds of the total number of ounces produced in the calendar year. The rate-of-assistance factor is two thirds of the amount by which the average cost of production per ounce of gold for the calendar year exceeds $26.50. The amount of assistance per ounce increases as the average cost of production per ounce increases from $26.50 to $45. A maximum rate of assistance of $12.33 per ounce specified in the Act has the effect of precluding an increase in the amount of assistance as the average cost of production rises above $45 per ounce.

For purposes of the Act the cost of production of gold from a mine is the cost properly attributable to the gold produced from the mine during the year and includes mining, milling, smelting, refining, transportation, and administration costs and amounts for depreciation, preproduction expenses and expenditures on exploration and development as determined in accordance with the Regulations.

Applications for assistance have been received from 41 lode gold mines for the calendar year 1963. In addition, applications from operators of placer gold mines in British Columbia and the Yukon Territory for the year 1963 are expected by June 30, 1964. Twenty-three placer operators applied for assistance for 1962.

Two lode gold mines ceased operations in 1960. One resumed operations after a shaft-deepening program was completed. One became eligible for assistance because the average cost of production rose above $26.50 per ounce. Two adjoining mines merged to become one operation for purposes of the Act.

Eight lode gold mines operated in 1963 with an average cost of production less than $26.50 per ounce and consequently were not eligible for assistance.

The annual average of the weekly buying prices in Canadian funds by the Royal Canadian Mint in 1963 was $37.75 per fine ounce of gold compared with $37.41 in 1962 and $35.46 in 1961. The price of gold in Canadian funds is governed by the fixed buying price of $35 per fine ounce in United States funds by the United States Treasury and the exchange rate between the Canadian and United States dollars. Since May 2, 1962 the value of the Canadian dollar has been set at $0.925 United States funds. At parity the Mint buying price for gold is $37.84 per ounce in Canadian funds. The market value of the Canadian dollar may be permitted to fluctuate by one per cent either side of parity. Thus, the Mint buying price in Canadian funds may vary between $37.46 and $38.22 per ounce.

Conditions Governing Eligibility for Assistance

A mine, to be classified as a gold mine for purposes of the Act and Regulations, must fulfill the following conditions:

1. The value of the gold produced must be 70 per cent or more of the total value of the output of the mine.
2. The mine or operation must produce at least 50 troy ounces of gold in a designated year.
3. Ore reserves of commercial significance must be developed and there must be a possibility of attaining production of gold on a commercial basis within a reasonable time.

The operator must also conform to the following requirements to be eligible for assistance payments.

1. Application in prescribed form for assistance payments for a designated quarter or year must be received by the Department of Mines and Technical Surveys within six months after the end of the designated period. Advance payments may be made for a calendar year or for quarterly periods beginning with the first day of the months of January, April, July or October. Schedules I and II are to be used in making application for assistance.
2. The cost of production per ounce of gold, computed on all ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period, must exceed $26.50.
3. Assistance payments are made only for those ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period which are:
 - a. sold in the form of bullion to the Royal Canadian Mint by the operator; or

- b. sold in the form of ore or concentrate to a domestic smelter, provided the smelter operator certifies that a number of ounces equivalent to those paid for by the smelter have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint as soon as is practicable after the shipment of the ore or concentrate and the separation of the gold therefrom; or
 - c. exported and sold in the form of ore or concentrate to a foreign smelter.
4. The operator of a mine applying for assistance for the first time must submit a declaration of ownership of the mine on Schedule III.
 5. A new mine which is operated by an incorporated company must be declared in production in accordance with Section 83(5) of the Income Tax Act. Status as a new mine may be obtained through application to the Taxation Division, Department of National Revenue, Ottawa.

The Gold Export Act and Disposal of Canadian Gold

The Gold Export Act, passed in 1932, authorized the Governor in Council to make regulations regarding the export of gold from Canada. On March 21, 1956, the regulations, which prohibited the export in any form except under licence issued by the Minister of Finance, were revoked. Thus, since March 1956, producers have been free to sell their gold wherever they wish.

Administration

The Act is administered under the direction of the Assistant Deputy Minister (Mines) by a senior officer of the Mineral Resources Division, Department of Mines and Technical Surveys. Inspection engineers annually visit each mine or operation receiving assistance for the purpose of ascertaining the exploration and development expenditures which will be classified as capital expenditures for inclusion in allowable costs on a deferred basis, and for reporting upon the operations conducted at the mine insofar as they affect the payment of assistance.

Assistance applications are generally submitted at the end of each quarter. If found to be complete and in accordance with the Act and the Regulations, they are approved and an advance payment is forwarded to the operator. The Regulations provide that the advance payment shall not exceed 90 per cent of the allowable assistance payable under the application. When the final audit of the books of account has been completed and the audit deletions and additions have been made, the remaining holdback is approved for payment.

The Department has received the proficient assistance and co-operation of the Audit Services Branch, Office of the Comptroller of the Treasury, in the examination of applications and in the verification of information received by an audit of the books of the operators.

*The Honorable Wm. M. Benidickson,
Minister of Mines and Technical Surveys,
Ottawa*

SIR:

I have the honor to submit a report on the administration of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1965.

Your obedient servant,
W. E. van STEENBURGH,
Deputy Minister

OTTAWA, May 18, 1965

Summary of Operations for Year 1964

The Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act was extended in December 1963 for a period of four years to the end of 1967. The amendment to the Act did not change the formula used in computing the amount of assistance payable to a gold mine. The amending legislation did introduce a restriction which may affect a new lode gold mine which comes into production after June 30, 1965. After that date, a new lode gold mine will be eligible for assistance only if it provides direct support to an existing gold mining community. A new gold mine will be deemed to provide such support if the majority of the persons employed at the mine reside in one or more of the established gold mining communities which are specified in the Act.

The restriction was adopted in order to deter the establishment of new gold mining communities supported by mines which would require governmental assistance from the outset. The restriction does not apply to lode gold mines which were in production prior to July 1, 1965, nor does it apply to placer gold mines. The date on which the restriction will become effective was set to give new lode gold mines which are currently under development a reasonable time to come into production and thus qualify for assistance even though they are located at a distance from existing gold mining communities.

The amounts paid to gold mine operators to March 31, 1965 for the years 1948 to 1964 inclusive, totalled $201,406,057.42 on a production of 49,007,674.990 fine ounces of gold produced and sold in accordance with the requirements of the Act.

The total assistance payable for gold produced and sold under the Act in the calendar year 1964 is estimated to be $16,320,000. For the year 1964, the total assistance paid up to March 31, 1965 was $12,596,046.22. This sum represents about 90 per cent of the assistance payable on the applications received to that date. The remaining 10 per cent holdback is payable after an audit has been completed on the accounts of applicants by the Audit Services Branch, Office of the Comptroller of the Treasury.

Payments amounting to $14,110,626.76 have been made to March 31, 1965 on gold produced in the calendar year 1963. The addition of holdback payments is expected to bring the total for the year to approximately $14.7 million.

The amount of assistance payable to the operator of a gold mine is computed under the current formula by adding 25 per cent to the product of the rate of assistance and the number of assistance ounces. The number of assistance ounces is two thirds of the total ounces produced and sold to the Royal Canadian Mint by a mine in a calendar year. The rate-of-assistance factor is two thirds of the amount by which average cost of production per ounce of gold from the mine during a calendar year exceeds $26.50. The maximum rate of assistance of $12.33 per ounce is attained when the average cost of production per ounce of gold reaches $45. The amount of assistance per ounce increase as the average cost of production per ounce increases from $26.50 to $45:

The cost of production of gold from a mine includes those mining, milling, smelting, refining, transportation, and administration costs. Allowances are made for depreciation, preproduction costs and expenditures on exploration and development on the mine property in accordance with the Regulations.

Applications for assistance have been received from 44 lode gold mines for calendar 1964. In addition, applications from operators of placer gold mines in British Columbia and Yukon Territory for 1964 will be received. In 1963, twenty-six placer operators applied for assistance.

One lode gold mine, which had been receiving assistance, ceased operations in 1964 due to the exhaustion of ore reserves. Two new lode gold mines started production during the year. Three mines became eligible for assistance as the average costs of production rose above $26.50 per ounce.

Four lode gold mines operated in 1964 without assistance as the average cost of production was less than $26.50 per ounce.

The annual average of the weekly buying prices in Canadian funds at the Royal Canadian Mint in 1964 was $37.75 per fine ounce of gold. This compares with $37.75 in 1963 and $37.41 in 1962. The price of gold in Canadian funds is governed by the fixed buying price of $35 per fine ounce in United States funds by the United States Treasury and the exchange rate between the Canadian and United States dollars. Since May 2, 1962 the value of the Canadian dollar has been set at $0.925 United States funds. At parity the Mint buying price for gold is $37.84 per ounce in Canadian funds. The market value of the Canadian dollar may be permitted to fluctuate by one per cent either side of parity. Thus, the Mint buying price in Canadian funds may vary between $37.46 and $38.22 per ounce. In 1964, the Mint price varied from $37.54 to $37.86 per ounce.

Conditions Governing Eligibility for Assistance

A mine, to be classified as a gold mine for purposes of the Act and Regulations, must fulfil the following conditions.

1. The value of gold produced must be 70 per cent or more of the total value of the output of the mine.
2. The mine must produce at least 50 troy ounces of gold in a designated year
3. Ores reserves of commercial significance must be developed and there must be a reasonable possibility of attaining production of gold on a commercial basis within a reasonable time.

The operator of a mine must also conform to the following requirements to be eligible for assistance payments.

1. Application in prescribed form for assistance payments for a designated quarter or year must be received by the Department of Mines and Technical Surveys within six months after the end of the designated period. Advance payments may be made for a calendar year or for quarterly periods beginning with the first day of the months of January, April,

July or October. Schedules I and II are to be used in making application for assistance.

2. The average cost of production per ounce of gold, computed on all ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period, must exceed $26.50.
3. Assistance payments are made for those ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period which are:
 - a. sold in the form of bullion to the Royal Canadian Mint by the operator; or
 - b. sold in the form of ore or concentrate to a domestic smelter, provided the smelter operator certifies that a number of ounces equivalent to those paid for by the smelter have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint as soon as is practicable after the shipment of the ore or concentrate and the separation of the gold therefrom; or
 - c. exported and sold in the form of ore or concentrate to a foreign smelter.
4. The operator of a mine applying for assistance for the first time must submit a declaration of ownership of the mine on Schedule III.
5. A new gold mine, which is operated by an incorporated company, must be declared in production in accordance with Section 83(5) of the Income Tax Act. Status as a new mine may be obtained through application to the Taxation Division, Department of National Revenue, Ottawa.

The Gold Export Act and Disposal of Canadian Gold

The Gold Export Act, passed in 1932, authorized the Governor in Council to make regulations regarding the export of gold from Canada. On March 21, 1956, the regulations, which prohibited the export in any form except under licence issued by the Minister of Finance, were revoked. Thus, since March 1956, producers have been free to sell their gold wherever they wish.

Administration

The Act is administered under the direction of the Deputy Minister by a senior officer of the Mineral Resources Division, Department of Mines and Technical Surveys. Inspection engineers annually visit each mine receiving assistance for the purpose of determining the exploration and development expenditures which will be classified as capital expenditures for inclusion in allowable costs on a deferred basis, and for reporting upon the operations conducted at the mine insofar as they affect the payment of assistance.

Assistance applications are generally submitted at the end of each quarter. If found to be complete and in accordance with the Act and the Regulations, they are approved and an advance payment is forwarded to the operator. The Regulations provide that the advance payment shall not exceed 90 per cent of the assistance payable under the application. When the final audit of the accounts has been completed, the remaining holdback is approved for payment.

The Department has received the proficient assistance and co-operation of the Audit Services Branch, Office of the Comptroller of the Treasury, in the examination of applications and in the verification of information received by an audit of the accounts of the operators.

*The Honorable Jean-Luc Pepin,
Minister of Mines and Technical Surveys,
Ottawa*

SIR:

I have the honor to submit a report on the administration of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1966.

Your obedient servant,
C. M. ISBISTER
Deputy Minister

OTTAWA, May 17, 1966

Summary of Operations for Year 1965

Since 1948 the Federal Government, under provisions of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act, has given assistance to operators of marginal gold mines to meet increasing costs of production against a fixed selling price for gold. The assistance so provided has extended the operating life of many gold mines and has given the communities which are dependent upon them the opportunity to adjust gradually to diminishing economic support.

The act was last amended in 1963 at which time it was extended for four years to December 31, 1967.

The amending legislation introduced a restriction which affects lode gold mines coming into production after June 30, 1965. New lode gold mines commencing production after that date are eligible for assistance only if the mine provides direct economic support to an existing community. A gold mine is deemed to provide such support if most of the persons employed at the mine reside in one or more of the established communities which are specified in a schedule to the act. The restriction was adopted to deter the establishment of new gold mining communities supported by mines which would require governmental assistance from the outset of their operations. The restriction does not apply to lode gold mines which were in production prior to July 1, 1965, nor does it apply to placer gold mines.

The amount of assistance payable to an operator is determined by a formula based on the average cost of production per ounce and the number of ounces produced. The assistance on a per-ounce-produced basis ranges from zero to $10.27. Gold mines having a cost of production of $26.50 or less per ounce receive no assistance. Gold mines having a cost of production of $45 or more per ounce receive the maximum rate of $10.27 per ounce.

Under the current formula the assistance payable to the operator of a gold mine is computed by adding 25 per cent to the product of two factors, the "rate of assistance" and the number of "assistance ounces". The number of assistance ounces is two-thirds of the total ounces produced and sold to the Royal Canadian Mint by a mine in a calendar year. The rate-of-assistance factor is two-thirds of the amount by which the average cost of production exceeds $26.50. The rate-of-assistance factor is limited to a maximum of $12.33 which is reached when the average cost of production rises to $45 per ounce of gold produced.

The average cost of production is determined by dividing the total allowable costs by the total number of ounces produced in the form of bullion from the mine in a calendar year. Only those ounces of gold which have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint are eligible for inclusion in the assistance-ounces factor.

The cost of production of gold from a mine includes mining, milling, smelting, refining, transportation, and administration costs. Allowances are made for depreciation, preproduction costs and expenditures on exploration and development on the mine property in accordance with the Regulations.

The amounts paid to gold mine operators to March 31, 1966 for the years 1948 to 1965 inclusive, totalled $216,184,450.15 on a production of 51,306,777.412 fine ounces of gold produced and sold in accordance with the requirements of the act.

The total assistance payable for gold produced and sold under the act in the calendar year 1965 is estimated to be $15,300,000. For the year 1965, the total assistance paid up to March 31, 1966 was $12,053,385.67. This sum represents about 90 per cent of the assistance payable on the applications received to that date. The remaining 10 per cent holdback is payable after an audit has been completed on the accounts of the applicants.

Payments amounting to $15,069,735.80 have been made to March 31, 1966 on gold produced in the calendar year 1964. The addition of holdback payments is expected to bring the total for the year to approximately $16.0 million.

Applications for assistance have been received from 41 lode gold mines for the calendar year 1965. In addition, applications from operators of placer gold mines in British Columbia and the Yukon Territory for 1965 will be received. In 1964, twenty-six operators of placer gold mines applied for assistance.

Seven lode gold mines which were receiving assistance, and one which was not, ceased operations in 1965. Five new lode gold mines started production during the year. Seven lode gold mines operated in 1965 without assistance.

The annual average of the weekly buying prices in Canadian funds by the Royal Canadian Mint in 1965 was $37.73 per ounce of fine gold. The price of gold in Canadian funds is governed by the fixed buying price of $35 per fine ounce in United States funds by the United States Treasury and the exchange rate between the Canadian and United States dollars. Since May 1962 the value of the Canadian dollar has been set at $0.925 United States funds. At parity the Mint buying price for gold is $37.84 per ounce in Canadian funds. The market value of the Canadian dollar may be permitted to fluctuate by one per cent either side of parity. Thus the Mint buying price in Canadian funds may vary between $37.46 and $38.22 per ounce.

Conditions Governing Eligibility for Assistance

A mine, to be classified as a gold mine for purposes of the Act and Regulations, must fulfil the following conditions:

1. The value of gold produced must be 70 per cent or more of the total value of the output of the mine.
2. The mine must produce at least 50 troy ounces of fine gold in a designated year.
3. Ore reserves of commercial significance must be developed and there must be a reasonable possibility of attaining production of gold on a commercial basis within a reasonable time.

The operator of a mine must also conform to the following requirements to be eligible for assistance payments:

1. Application in prescribed form for assistance payments for a designated quarter or year must be received by the Department of Mines and Technical Surveys within six months after the end of the designated period. Advance payments may be made for a calendar year or for quarterly periods beginning with the first day of the months of January, April, July or October. Schedules I and II are to be used in making application for assistance.

2. The average cost of production per ounce of gold, computed on all ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period, must exceed $26.50.
3. Assistance payments are made only for those ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period which are:
 - a. sold in the form of bullion to the Royal Canadian Mint by the operator; or
 - b. sold in the form of ore or concentrate to a domestic smelter, provided the smelter operator certifies that a number of ounces equivalent to those paid for by the smelter have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint as soon as is practicable after the shipment of the ore or concentrate and the separation of the gold therefrom; or
 - c. exported and sold in the form of ore or concentrate to a foreign smelter.
4. The operator of a mine applying for assistance for the first time must submit a declaration of ownership of the mine on Schedule III.
5. A new gold mine, which is operated by an incorporated company, must be declared in production in accordance with Section 83(5) of the Income Tax Act. Status as a new mine may be obtained through application to the Taxation Division, Department of National Revenue, Ottawa.

The Gold Export Act and Disposal of Canadian Gold

The Gold Export Act, passed in 1932, authorized the Governor in Council to make regulations regarding the export of gold from Canada. On March 21, 1956, the regulations, which prohibited the export in any form except under licence issued by the Minister of Finance, were revoked. Thus, since March 1956, producers have been free to sell their gold wherever they wish.

Administration

The Act is administered under the direction of the Assistant Deputy Minister (Mines), Department of Mines and Technical Surveys. Inspection engineers annually visit each mine receiving assistance for the purpose of determining the exploration and development expenditures which will be classified as capital expenditures for inclusion in allowable costs on a deferred basis, and for reporting upon the operations conducted at the mine insofar as they affect the payment of assistance.

Assistance applications are generally submitted at the end of each quarter. If found to be complete and in accordance with the Act and the Regulations, they are approved and an advance payment is forwarded to the operator. The Regulations provide that the advance payment shall not exceed 90 per cent of the assistance payable under the application. When the final audit of the accounts has been completed, the remaining holdback is approved for payment.

The Department has received the proficient assistance and co-operation of the Audit Services Branch, Office of the Comptroller of the Treasury, in the examination of applications and in the verification of information received by an audit of the accounts of the operators.

OTTAWA, May 10, 1967

*The Honorable Jean-Luc Pepin,
Minister of Energy, Mines and Resources,
Ottawa*

SIR:

I have the honor to submit a report on the administration of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1967.

Your obedient servant,

C. M. ISBISTER,
Deputy Minister

OTTAWA, May 10, 1967

Summary of Operations for Year 1966

The Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act was introduced in 1948 to provide the operators of marginal gold mines with assistance in meeting the rising costs of production.

The price paid for gold by the Royal Canadian Mint is based directly on that offered by the United States Treasury. The United States price has remained fixed at $35 per fine ounce in United States funds since 1934.

The assistance given has extended the operating life of many gold mines and thereby has allowed their dependent communities to adjust gradually to diminishing economic support.

Rising costs and the depletion of ore reserves have caused a number of gold mines to close and others to curtail their operations in recent years. Seven lode gold mines receiving assistance closed in 1966. In addition, the largest producer of gold from placer deposits in the Yukon Territory ceased operations. Two new lode gold mines started production during the year. Five lode gold mines operated in 1966 without assistance.

The number of lode gold mines eligible for assistance has declined from 87 in 1948 to 44 in 1960 and 42 in 1966. Further closures are expected during 1967 and the following two or three years. It is also anticipated that a few new gold mines will open and be eligible for assistance.

The latest amendment to the Act in 1963 provided for its operation to December 31, 1967. The amending act contained a restriction limiting eligibility for assistance in the case of gold mines which commenced production after June 30, 1965 to those providing direct economic support to an existing mining community. A gold mine is deemed to provide such support if more than half of the persons employed at the mine reside in the established mining communities listed in a schedule to the Act.

The amount of assistance payable to an operator is determined by a formula based on the average cost of production per ounce of gold and the number of ounces produced. Under the current formula the assistance payable to the operator of a gold mine is computed by adding 25 per cent to the product of two factors: the rate of assistance and the number of assistance ounces. The number of assistance ounces is two thirds of the total ounces produced and sold to the Royal Canadian Mint by a mine in a calendar year. The rate-of-assistance factor is two thirds of the amount by which the average cost of production exceeds $26.50. The rate-of-assistance factor is limited to a maximum of $12.33 which is reached when the average cost of production rises to $45 per ounce of gold produced.

When calculated on the basis of all eligible ounces produced, the maximum assistance payable amounts to $10.27 per ounce.

The average cost of production is determined by dividing the total allowable costs by the total number of ounces produced in the form of bullion from the mine in a calendar year. Only those ounces of gold which have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint are eligible for inclusion in the assistance-ounces factor.

The cost of production of gold from a mine includes mining, milling, smelting, refining, transportation, and administration costs. Allowances are made for depreciation, preproduction costs and expenditures on exploration and development on the mine property in accordance with the Regulations.

The amounts paid to gold-mine operators to March 31, 1967 for the years 1948 to 1966 inclusive totalled $231,024,272.60 on a production of 53,380,054.863 fine ounces of gold produced and sold in accordance with the requirements of the Act.

The total assistance payable for gold produced and sold in the calendar year 1966 is estimated to be $15.6 million. For the year 1966, the total assistance paid to March 31, 1967 was $11,777,816.65. This sum represents about 90 per cent of the assistance payable on applications received to that date. The remaining 10 per cent holdback is payable after an audit has been completed on the accounts of the applicants.

Payments amounting to $14,826,633.78 have been made to March 31, 1967 on gold produced in the calendar year 1965. The addition of holdback payments is expected to bring the total for the year to approximately $15.6 million.

Applications for assistance have been received from 38 lode gold mines for the calendar year 1966. In addition, applications from operators of placer gold mines in British Columbia and the Yukon Territory will be submitted. In 1965, twenty-two operators of placer mines applied for assistance.

The annual average of the weekly buying prices in Canadian funds by the Royal Canadian Mint in 1966 was $37.71 per ounce of fine gold. The price of gold in Canadian funds is governed by the fixed buying price of $35 per fine ounce in United States funds by the United States Treasury and the exchange rate between the Canadian and United States dollars. Since May 1962 the value of the Canadian dollar has been set at $0.925 United States funds. At parity the Mint buying price for gold is $37.84 per ounce in Canadian funds. The market value of the Canadian dollar may be permitted to fluctuate by one per cent either side of parity. Thus the Mint buying price in Canadian funds may vary between $37.46 and $38.22 per ounce.

Conditions Governing Eligibility for Assistance

A mine, to be classified as a gold mine for purposes of the Act and Regulations, must fulfil the following conditions:

1. The value of gold produced must be 70 per cent or more of the total value of the output of the mine.
2. The mine must produce at least 50 troy ounces of fine gold in a designated year.
3. Ore reserves of commercial significance must be developed and there must be a reasonable possibility of attaining production of gold on a commercial basis within a reasonable time.

The operator of a mine must also conform to the following requirements to be eligible for assistance payments:

1. Application in prescribed form for assistance payments for a designated quarter or year must be received by the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources within six months after the end of the designated period. Advance payments may be made for a calendar year or for quarterly periods beginning with the first day of the months of January, April, July or October. Schedules I and II are to be used in making application for assistance.
2. The average cost of production per ounce of gold, computed on all ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period, must exceed $26.50.
3. Assistance payments are made only for those ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period which are:
 - a. sold in the form of bullion to the Royal Canadian Mint by the operator; or
 - b. sold in the form of ore or concentrate to a domestic smelter, provided the smelter operator certifies that a number of ounces equivalent to those paid for by the smelter have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint as soon as is practicable after the shipment of the ore or concentrate and the separation of the gold therefrom; or
 - c. exported and sold in the form of ore or concentrate to a foreign smelter.
4. The operator of a mine applying for assistance for the first time must submit a declaration of ownership of the mine on Schedule III.
5. A new gold mine, which is operated by an incorporated company, must be declared in production in accordance with Section 83(5) of the Income Tax Act. Status as a new mine may be obtained through application to the Taxation Division, Department of National Revenue, Ottawa.

The Gold Export Act and Disposal of Canadian Gold

The Gold Export Act, passed in 1932, authorized the Governor in Council to make regulations regarding the export of gold from Canada. On March 21, 1956, the regulations, which prohibited the export in any form except under licence issued by the Minister of Finance, were revoked. Thus, since March 1956, producers have been free to sell their gold wherever they wish.

Administration

The Act is administered under the direction of the Assistant Deputy Minister (Mineral Development), Department of Energy, Mines and Resources. Inspection engineers annually visit each mine receiving assistance for the purpose of determining the exploration and development expenditures which will be classified as capital expenditures for inclusion in allowable costs on a deferred basis, and for reporting upon the operations conducted at the mine insofar as they affect the payment of assistance.

Assistance applications are generally submitted at the end of each quarter. If found to be complete and in accordance with the Act and the Regulations, they are approved and an advance payment is forwarded to the operator. The Regulations provide that the advance payment shall not exceed 90 per cent of the assistance payable under the application. When the final audit of the accounts has been completed, the remaining holdback is approved for payment.

The Department has received the proficient assistance and co-operation of the Audit Services Branch, Office of the Comptroller of the Treasury, in the examination of applications and in the verification of information received by an audit of the accounts of the operators.

The Honorable J. J. Greene,
Minister of Energy, Mines and Resources,
Ottawa

SIR:

I have the honor to submit a report on the administration of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1968.

Your obedient servant,

C. M. ISBISTER,
Deputy Minister

OTTAWA, August 15, 1968

Summary of Operations for the Year 1967

The Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act was amended by Chapter 17 of the statutes of 1967. The amending act, which received Royal Assent on December 21, 1967, extended the application of the Act for three years to the end of 1970 without change in the formula for computing the amount of assistance payable.

The Act was introduced in 1948 to provide the operators of marginal gold mines with financial assistance in meeting rising costs of production. The assistance has extended the operating life of many gold mines and has thereby allowed the communities dependent upon them to adjust gradually to diminishing economic support.

An amendment to the Act in 1963 contained a restriction limiting eligibility for assistance in the case of lode gold mines commencing production after June 30, 1965 to those providing direct economic support to an existing mining community. A gold mine is deemed to provide such support if more than 50 per cent of the persons employed at the mine reside in the established mining communities listed in a schedule to the Act.

The number of lode gold mines receiving assistance under the Act has declined from 87 in 1948 to 44 in 1960 and to 39 in 1967.

Three lode gold mines receiving assistance ceased operations in 1967 due to rising costs and the depletion of ore reserves. Two other mines merged under the management of one operator. Three new mines began operations and became eligible for assistance in 1967.

The amount of assistance payable to an operator is determined by a formula based on the average cost of production per ounce of gold and the number of ounces produced. Under the current formula the assistance payable to the operator of a gold mine is computed by adding 25 per cent to the product of two factors, the "rate of assistance" and the number of "assistance ounces". The number of assistance ounces is two thirds of the total ounces produced and sold to the Royal Canadian Mint by a mine in a calendar year. The rate-of-assistance factor is two thirds of the amount by which the average cost of production exceeds $26.50. The rate-of-assistance factor is limited to a maximum of $12.33 which is reached when the average cost of production rises to $45 per ounce of gold produced.

When calculated on the basis of all eligible ounces produced, the maximum assistance payable amounts to $10.27 per ounce.

The average cost of production is determined by dividing the total allowable costs by the total number of ounces produced in the form of bullion from the mine in a calendar year. Only those ounces of gold which have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint are eligible for inclusion in the assistance-ounces factor.

The cost of production of gold from a mine includes mining, milling, smelting, refining, transportation, and administration costs. Allowances are made for depreciation, preproduction costs and expenditures on exploration and development on the mine property in accordance with the Regulations.

The amounts paid to gold-mine operators to March 31, 1968 for the years 1948 to 1967 inclusive totalled $246,360,675.18 on a production of 55,369,122.298 fine ounces of gold produced and sold in accordance with the requirements of the Act.

The total assistance payable for gold produced and sold in the calendar year 1967 is estimated to be $15.4 million. For the year 1967, the total assistance paid to March 31, 1967 was $12,027,016.07. This sum is about 90 per cent of the assistance payable on applications received to that date. The remaining 10 per cent holdback is payable after an audit has been completed on the accounts of the applicants.

Payments amounting to $14,620,449.55 have been made to March 31, 1968 on gold produced in the calendar year 1966. The addition of holdback payments is expected to bring the total for the year to approximately $15.4 million.

Applications for assistance have been received from 37 lode gold mines for the calendar year 1967. In addition, applications from operators of placer gold mines in British Columbia and the Yukon Territory will be submitted. In 1966, seventeen operators of placer mines applied for assistance.

The Gold Export Act, passed in 1932, authorizes the Governor in Council to make regulations governing the export of gold from Canada. On March 21, 1956, the regulations which prohibited the export of gold in any form except under licence issued by the Minister of Finance were revoked. Since that time, gold-mine operators have been free to sell their gold without restriction. However, only gold sold to the Royal Canadian Mint is eligible for assistance under the provisions of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act.

The annual average of the weekly buying prices in Canadian funds by the Royal Canadian Mint in 1967 was $37.75 per ounce of fine gold. In 1967 and prior years, the price of gold in Canadian funds was governed by the fixed buying price of $35 per fine ounce in United States funds by the United States Treasury and the exchange rate between the Canadian and United States dollars. Since May 1962, the value of the Canadian dollar has been set at $0.925 United States funds. At parity the Mint buying price for gold is $37.84 per ounce in Canadian funds. The market value of the Canadian dollar is permitted to fluctuate by one per cent above or below parity. Thus the Mint buying price in Canadian funds may vary between $37.46 and $38.22 per ounce.

The governors of the central banks of Belgium, Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Switzerland, Britain and the United States met in Washington on March 16-17, 1968 to consider problems related to the maintenance of exchange stability. The governors agreed to establish a two-price system for gold. Only gold then held in the official reserves of the seven countries would be bought or sold in transactions with monetary authorities at the existing price of $US35 an ounce. It was agreed that gold in the official reserves would not be sold in any other gold market, nor would gold be purchased from the market by the central banks.

As a consequence of the agreement, Canada may sell newly mined gold only on the free market. The price of gold on the free market is determined by supply and demand.

Following the agreement by the central bankers, the Royal Canadian Mint continued to purchase gold from gold mine operators at a price of $US35. Thus, gold newly mined in Canada continued to be eligible for assistance under the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act provided it was sold to the Mint. It should be noted that the amount of assistance payable to a gold-mine operator is based on the cost of production of the gold and is not related to its selling price.

Conditions Governing Eligibility for Assistance

A mine, to be classified as a gold mine for purposes of the Act and Regulations, must fulfil the following conditions:

1. The value of gold produced must be 70 per cent or more of the total value of the output of the mine.
2. The mine must produce at least 50 troy ounces of fine gold in a designated year.
3. Ore reserves of commercial significance must be developed and there must be a reasonable possibility of attaining production of gold on a commercial basis within a reasonable time.

The operator of a mine must also conform to the following requirements to be eligible for assistance payments:

1. Application in prescribed form for assistance payments for a designated quarter or year must be received by the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources within six months after the end of the designated period. Advance payments may be made for a calendar year or for quarterly periods beginning with the first day of the months of January, April, July or October. Schedules I and II are to be used in making application for assistance.
2. The average cost of production per ounce of gold, computed on all ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period, must exceed $26.50.
3. Assistance payments are made only for those ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period which are:
 - a. sold in the form of bullion to the Royal Canadian Mint by the operator; or
 - b. sold in the form of ore or concentrate to a domestic smelter, provided the smelter operator certifies that a number of ounces equivalent to those paid for by the smelter have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint as soon as is practicable after the shipment of the ore or concentrate and the separation of the gold therefrom; or
 - c. exported and sold in the form of ore or concentrate to a foreign smelter.
4. The operator of a mine applying for assistance for the first time must submit a declaration of ownership of the mine on Schedule III.
5. A new gold mine, which is operated by an incorporated company, must be declared in production in accordance with Section 83(5) of the Income Tax Act. Status as a new mine may be obtained through application to the Taxation Division, Department of National Revenue, Ottawa.

Administration

The Act is administered under the direction of the Assistant Deputy Minister (Mineral Development), Department of Energy, Mines and Resources. Inspection engineers annually visit each mine receiving assistance for the purpose of determining the exploration and development expenditures which will be classified as capital expenditures for inclusion in allowable costs on a deferred basis, and for reporting upon the operations conducted at the mine insofar as they affect the payment of assistance.

Assistance applications are generally submitted at the end of each quarter. If found to be complete and in accordance with the Act and the Regulations, they are approved and an advance payment is forwarded to the operator. The Regulations provide that the advance payment shall not exceed 90 per cent of the assistance payable under the application. When the final audit of the accounts has been completed, the remaining holdback is approved for payment.

The Department has received the proficient assistance and co-operation of the Audit Services Branch, Office of the Comptroller of the Treasury, in the examination of applications and in the verification of information received by an audit of the accounts of the operators:

*The Honorable J. J. Greene,
Minister of Energy, Mines and Resources,
Ottawa*

SIR:

I have the honor to submit a report on the administration of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1969.

Your obedient servant,

C. M. ISBISTER,
Deputy Minister

OTTAWA, June 16, 1969

Summary of Operations for the Year 1968

The Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act was passed in 1948 to assist gold mines to surmount the economic difficulties caused by rising costs of production and a fixed price for gold. The purpose of the legislation was to extend the operating life of gold mines and thereby allow their dependent communities to adjust gradually to diminishing economic support.

The Act was last amended in December, 1967 to extend its operation for a period of three years to December 31, 1970.

An amendment to the Act in 1963 contained a restriction limiting eligibility for assistance in the case of lode gold mines commencing production after June 30, 1965 to those providing direct economic support to an existing mining community. A gold mine is deemed to provide such support if more than 50 per cent of the persons employed at the mine reside in the established mining communities listed in a schedule to the Act.

The amount of assistance payable to an operator is determined by a formula based on the average cost of production per ounce of gold and the number of ounces produced. Under the current formula the assistance payable to the operator of a gold mine is computed by adding 25 per cent to the product of two factors, the "rate of assistance" and the number of "assistance ounces". The number of assistance ounces is two thirds of the total ounces produced and sold to the Royal Canadian Mint by a mine in a calendar year. The rate-of-assistance factor is two thirds of the amount by which the average cost of production exceeds $26.50. The rate-of-assistance factor is limited to a maximum of $12.33 which is reached when the average cost of production rises to $45 per ounce of gold produced.

When calculated on the basis of all eligible ounces produced, the maximum assistance payable amounts to $10.27 per ounce.

The average cost of production is determined by dividing the total allowance costs by the total number of ounces produced in the form of bullion from the mine in a calendar year. Only those ounces of gold which have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint are eligible for inclusion in the assistance-ounces factor.

The cost of production of gold from a mine includes mining, milling, smelting, refining, transportation, and administration costs. Allowances are made for depreciation, preproduction costs and expenditures on exploration and development on the mine property in accordance with the Regulations.

The number of lode gold mines receiving assistance under the Act declined from 87 in 1948 to 44 in 1960 and to 35 in 1968.

Five gold mines which had been in receipt of assistance closed in 1968. The Hollinger and Preston mines in the Timmins area of Ontario, the Teck-Hughes mine at Kirkland Lake, Ont., and the Tundra mine in the Northwest Territories ceased operations due to rising costs and the depletion of ore reserves. The San Antonio mine in Manitoba also closed for economic reasons and because of damage from a fire in the surface plant.

The Wasamac No. 2 mine in the Rouyn-Noranda area of Quebec was the only gold mine to commence operations in 1968.

Four lode gold mines did not apply for assistance in 1968 because of low costs of production.

The amounts paid to gold-mine operators to March 31, 1969 for the years 1948 to 1968 inclusive totalled $261,293,250.09 on a production of 57,155,-704.611 fine ounces of gold produced and sold in accordance with the requirements of the Act.

The total assistance payable for gold produced and sold in the calendar year 1968 is estimated to be $14.3 million. For the year 1968 the total assistance paid to March 31, 1969 was $11,430,163.02. This sum is about 90 per cent of the assistance payable on applications received to that date. The remaining 10 per cent holdback is payable after an audit has been completed on the accounts of the applicants.

Payments amounting to $14,798,678.29 have been made to March 31, 1969 on gold produced in the calendar year 1967. The addition of holdback payments is expected to bring the total for the year to approximately $15.2 million.

Applications for assistance have been received from 35 lode gold mines for the calendar year 1968. In addition, applications from operators of placer gold mines in British Columbia and the Yukon Territory will be submitted. In 1967, fifteen operators of small placer gold mines applied for assistance.

The Gold Export Act, passed in 1932, authorized the Governor in Council to make regulations governing the export of gold from Canada. On March 21, 1956, the regulations which prohibited the export of gold in any form except under licence issued by the Minister of Finance were revoked. Since that time, gold-mine operators have been free to sell their gold without restriction. However, only gold sold to the Royal Canadian Mint is eligible for assistance under the provision of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act.

The annual average of the weekly buying prices in Canadian funds by the Royal Canadian Mint in 1968 was $37.71 per ounce of fine gold. In 1967 and prior years, the price of gold in Canadian funds was governed by the fixed buying price of $35 per fine ounce in United States funds by the United States Treasury and the exchange rate between the Canadian and United States dollars. Since May 1962, the value of the Canadian dollar has been set at $0.925 United States funds. At parity the Mint buying price for gold is $37.84 per ounce in Canadian funds. The market value of the Canadian dollar is permitted to fluctuate by one per cent above or below parity. Thus the Mint buying price in Canadian funds may vary between $37.46 and $38.22 per ounce.

A major change occurred in the world's financial system in 1968. On March 16-17 the governors of the central banks of Belgium, Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and the United States met in Washington to discuss the operation of the gold pool to which they were contributors, and problems of international exchange. The gold pool, which had acted to stabilize the price of gold since 1961, found it difficult to carry out this function in the early part of 1968 because of a heavy demand by purchasers of gold.

The result of the meeting of governors of the central banks was the separation of the transactions in gold among the central banks from open market operations. The governors agreed that the existing official gold reserves would be used only in transfers among monetary authorities at the established price of $US35 an ounce, and that the central banks would neither purchase nor sell gold in private gold markets.

The Minister of Finance stated that Canada would support fully the agreements reached by the central bankers. He also stated that there would be no change in the practices applicable to gold producers under the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act.

Operators of gold mines were thus offered the alternatives of selling their production to the Royal Canadian Mint at the fixed price of $35 an ounce in United States funds in order to qualify for assistance payments under the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act or of selling on the open market at the price determined by supply and demand.

It may be noted that the amount of assistance payable is determined on the basis of the cost of production and is not related to the selling price of the gold.

In accordance with the agreement by the central bankers, gold purchased by the Mint is not added to Canada's official reserves, but is sold on the open market. Since the open market price for gold has exceeded $US35 an ounce, only gold-mine operators receiving assistance sell their production to the Mint. Consequently, the margin between the price paid to the gold mines and the price received from sale on the open market may be regarded as a reduction in the net cost of the assistance payments under the Act.

Conditions Governing Eligibility for Assistance

A mine, to be classified as a gold mine for purposes of the Act and Regulations, must fulfil the following conditions:

1. The value of gold produced must be 70 per cent or more of the total value of the output of the mine.
2. The mine must produce at least 50 troy ounces of fine gold in a designated year.
3. Ore reserves of commercial significance must be developed and there must be a reasonable possibility of attaining production of gold on a commercial basis within a reasonable time.

The operator of a mine must also conform to the following requirements to be eligible for assistance payments:

1. Application in prescribed form for assistance payments for a designated quarter or year must be received by the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources within six months after the end of the designated period. Advance payments may be made for a calendar year or for quarterly periods beginning with the first day of the months of January, April, July or October. Schedules I and II are to be used in making application for assistance.
2. The average cost of production per ounce of gold, computed on all ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period, must exceed $26.50.
3. Assistance payments are made only for those ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period which are:

- a. sold in the form of bullion to the Royal Canadian Mint by the operator; or
 - b. sold in the form of ore or concentrate to a domestic smelter, provided the smelter operator certifies that a number of ounces equivalent to those paid for by the smelter have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint as soon as is practicable after the shipment of the ore or concentrate and the separation of the gold therefrom; or
 - c. exported and sold in the form of ore or concentrate to a foreign smelter.
4. The operator of a mine applying for assistance for the first time must submit a declaration of ownership of the mine on Schedule III.
 5. A new gold mine, which is operated by an incorporated company, must be declared in production in accordance with Section 83(5) of the Income Tax Act. Status as a new mine may be obtained through application to the Taxation Division, Department of National Revenue, Ottawa.

Administration

The Act is administered under the direction of the Assistant Deputy Minister (Mineral Development), Department of Energy, Mines and Resources. Inspection engineers annually visit each mine receiving assistance for the purpose of determining the exploration and development expenditures which will be classified as capital expenditures for inclusion in allowable costs on a deferred basis, and for reporting upon the operations conducted at the mine insofar as they affect the payment of assistance.

Assistance applications are generally submitted at the end of each quarter. If found to be complete and in accordance with the Act and the Regulations, they are approved and an advance payment is forwarded to the operator. The Regulations provide that the advance payment shall not exceed 90 per cent of the assistance payable under the application. When the final audit of the accounts has been completed, the remaining holdback is approved for payment.

The Department has received the proficient assistance and co-operation of the Audit Services Bureau, Department of Supply and Services, in the examination of applications and in the verification of information received by an audit of the accounts of the operators.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY:

In accordance with Section 10 of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act, the undersigned has the honour to lay before your Excellency a report on the administration of the Act for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1970.

Respectfully submitted,

J. J. GREENE
Minister of Energy, Mines and Resources

OTTAWA, July 20, 1970.

*The Honourable J. J. Greene,
Minister of Energy, Mines and Resources,
Ottawa*

SIR:

I have the honour to submit a report on the administration of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1970.

Your obedient servant,

J. AUSTIN,
Deputy Minister

OTTAWA, July 20, 1970.

Summary of Operations for the Year 1969

Under the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act, which came into force in 1948, financial assistance is provided to marginal gold mines to counteract the effects of increasing costs of production and a fixed price for gold. By enabling gold mines to extend their productive life, the subventions help communities dependent on gold mining to adjust gradually to diminishing support.

The application of the Act was extended for a period of three years to December 31, 1970 by an amendment passed on November 28, 1967.

The Honourable J. J. Greene, Minister of Energy, Mines and Resources, stated in the House of Commons on November 24, 1969, that an Interdepartmental study group was examining the implications of the termination of the Act, and that a decision concerning renewal of the Act would be made after the report of the study group was received in the early summer of 1970.

An amendment to the Act in 1963 contained a restriction limiting eligibility for assistance in the case of lode gold mines commencing production after June 30, 1965 to those providing direct economic support to an existing mining community. A gold mine is deemed to provide such support if more than 50 per cent of the persons employed at the mine reside in the established mining communities listed in a schedule to the Act.

The number of lode gold mines receiving assistance under the Act has declined from 87 in 1948 to 44 in 1960 and to 33 in 1969.

Three gold mines which had been in receipt of assistance ceased operations in 1969. The Norbeau and Dubuisson mines in Quebec, and the Discovery mine in the Northwest Territories suspended production due to rising costs and the depletion of ore reserves.

The Campbell Red Lake mine in Ontario is the only operating lode gold mine which is ineligible for assistance because of low costs of production.

The amount of assistance payable to an operator is determined by a formula based on the average cost of production per ounce of gold and the number of ounces produced. Under the current formula the assistance payable to the operator of a gold mine is computed by adding 25 per cent to the product of two factors, the "rate of assistance" and the number of "assistance ounces". The number of assistance ounces is two thirds of the total ounces produced and sold to the Royal Canadian Mint by a mine in a calendar year. The rate-of-assistance factor is two thirds of the amount by which the average cost of production exceeds $26.50. The rate-of-assistance factor is limited to a maximum of $12.33 which is reached when the average cost of production rises to $45 per ounce of gold produced.

When calculated on the basis of all eligible ounces produced, the maximum assistance payable amounts to $10.27 per ounce.

The average cost of production is determined by dividing the total allowable costs by the total number of ounces produced in the form of bullion from the mine in a calendar year. Only those ounces of gold which have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint are eligible for inclusion in the assistance-ounces factor.

The cost of production of gold from a mine includes mining, milling, smelting, refining, transportation, and administration costs. Allowances are made for depreciation, preproduction costs and expenditures on exploration and development on the mine property in accordance with the Regulations.

The amounts paid to gold-mine operators to March 31, 1970 for the years 1948 to 1969 inclusive totalled $275,152,190.84 on a production of 58,636,593.380 fine ounces of gold produced and sold in accordance with the requirements of the Act.

The total assistance payable for gold produced and sold in the calendar year 1969 is estimated to be $13.5 million. For the year 1969 the total assistance paid to March 31, 1970 was $11,504,062.30. This sum is about 90 per cent of the assistance payable on applications received to that date. The remaining 10 per cent holdback is payable after an audit has been completed on the accounts of the applicants.

Payments amounting to $13,501,370.30 have been made to March 31, 1970 on gold produced in the calendar year 1968. The addition of holdback payments is expected to bring the total for the year to approximately $14.4 million.

Applications for assistance have been received from 33 lode gold mines for the calendar year 1969. In addition, applications from operators of placer gold mines in British Columbia and the Yukon Territory will be submitted. In 1968, twelve operators of small placer gold mines applied for assistance.

The Gold Export Act, passed in 1932, authorized the Governor in Council to make regulations governing the export of gold from Canada. The regulations which prohibited the export of gold in any form except under licence issued by the Minister of Finance were revoked in March, 1956. Since that time, gold-mine operators have been free to sell their gold without restriction. However, only gold sold to the Royal Canadian Mint is eligible for assistance under the provision of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act.

Prior to the establishment by central bankers of an international two-price system for gold in March, 1968, the Mint buying price for gold in Canadian funds was governed by the fixed buying of $35 (U.S.) by the United States Treasury and the exchange rate between the Canadian and United States dollars.

On May 27, 1968 the price per fine ounce of gold paid by the Mint was set at $35 (U.S.) by the Gold Bullion Regulations (Order in Council, P.C. 1968-1017). The Mint buying price in Canadian funds since that time has been dependent upon the exchange rate between the Canadian and United States dollars.

From May, 1962 until June 1, 1970, the value of the Canadian dollar was set at $0.925 (U.S.). With a permissible fluctuation in the value of the Canadian dollar by one per cent above or below $0.925 (U.S.), the Mint buying price in Canadian funds could vary between $37.46 and $38.22 per ounce during this period. The annual average of the weekly Mint buying prices, in Canadian funds in 1969, was $37.69.

In March, 1968, the governors of the central banks of seven nations decided to separate international transactions in gold among the central banks from open market transactions. The governors agreed that the existing official gold reserves would be used only in transfers among monetary authorities at the established price of $35 (U.S.) an ounce, and that the central banks would neither purchase nor sell gold in the open market.

The Minister of Finance stated that Canada would support fully the agreements reached by the central bankers. He also stated that there would be no change in the practices applicable to gold producers under the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act.

Operators of gold mines were thus offered the alternatives of selling their production to the Royal Canadian Mint at the fixed price of $35 (U.S.) an ounce, in order to qualify for assistance payments under the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act, or of selling on the open market at the price determined by supply and demand.

It may be noted that the amount of assistance payable is determined on the basis of the cost of production and is not related to the selling price of the gold.

In accordance with the agreement by the central bankers, gold purchased by the Mint is not added to Canada's official reserves, but is sold on the open market. The open market price exceeded $35 (U.S.) from April, 1968 to the end of 1969. Because only gold mine operators receiving assistance sold their gold to the Mint, the cost of assistance under the Act was effectively reduced by the difference in price at which the Mint bought newly mined gold and the price for which it was sold to open market bidders during this period.

Conditions Governing Eligibility for Assistance

A mine, to be classified as a gold mine for purposes of the Act and Regulations, must fulfil the following conditions:

1. The value of gold produced must be 70 per cent or more of the total value of the output of the mine.
2. The mine must produce at least 50 troy ounces of fine gold in a designated year.
3. Ore reserves of commercial significance must be developed and there must be a reasonable possibility of attaining production of gold on a commercial basis within a reasonable time.

The operator of a mine must also conform to the following requirements to be eligible for assistance payments:

1. Application in prescribed form for assistance payments for a designated quarter or year must be received by the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources within six months after the end of the designated period. Advance payments may be made for a calendar year or for quarterly periods beginning with the first day of the months of January, April, July or October. Schedules I and II are to be used in making application for assistance.
2. The average cost of production per ounce of gold, computed on all ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period, must exceed $26.50.
3. Assistance payments are made only for those ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period which are:
 - a) sold in the form of bullion to the Royal Canadian Mint by the operator; or
 - b) sold in the form of ore or concentrate to a domestic smelter, provided the smelter operator certifies that a number of ounces equivalent to those

paid for by the smelter have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint as soon as is practicable after the shipment of the ore or concentrate and the separation of the gold therefrom; or

- c) exported and sold in the form of ore or concentrate to a foreign smelter.
- 4. The operator of a mine applying for assistance for the first time must submit a declaration of ownership of the mine on Schedule III.
- 5. A new gold mine, which is operated by an incorporated company, must be declared in production in accordance with Section 83(5) of the Income Tax Act. Status as a new mine may be obtained through application to the Taxation Division, Department of National Revenue, Ottawa.

Administration

The Act is administered under the direction of the Assistant Deputy Minister (Mineral Development), Department of Energy, Mines and Resources. Inspection engineers annually visit each mine receiving assistance for the purpose of determining the exploration and development expenditures which will be classified as capital expenditures for inclusion in allowable costs on a deferred basis, and for reporting upon the operations conducted at the mine insofar as they affect the payment of assistance.

Assistance applications are generally submitted at the end of each quarter. If found to be complete and in accordance with the Act and the Regulations, they are approved and an advance payment is forwarded to the operator. The Regulations provide that the advance payment shall not exceed 90 per cent of the assistance payable under the application. When the final audit of the accounts has been completed, the remaining holdback is approved for payment.

The Department has received the proficient assistance and co-operation of the Audit Services Bureau, Department of Supply and Services, in the examination of applications and in the verification of information received by an audit of the accounts of the operators.
